PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Jensen Beach Country Club Members,

As summer closes and fall is here, we look forward to the cooler days, beautiful weather, and another enjoyable season here at Jensen Beach Country Club.

The fall season is a wonderful time to reconnect with friends, enjoy our outstanding amenities, and take part in the many activities and events that make our club such a special community. Along with our wonderful community and amenities, we encourage everyone to enjoy two outstanding destinations right here at the club, our Jensen Beach Golf Club and restaurant. We hope you will take every opportunity to relax, participate, and enjoy all that the club has to offer.

I would like to thank our Board of Directors, dedicated staff, committee members, and volunteers for their continued hard work and commitment. Their efforts help ensure that Jensen Beach Country Club remains a welcoming, vibrant, and enjoyable place for everyone.

Most importantly, thank you to our members for the spirit of friendship and community you bring to the club. We encourage you to stay involved, welcome new homeowners, and share your ideas as we continue working together to make our club the best it can be.

On behalf of the Board of Directors, I wish you and your families a wonderful fall season. We look forward to seeing you around the club!

Warm regards,

COMMITTEES

ARCHITECTURE & MODIFICATIONS (AMC)

The purpose of the committee is to review, approve or deny requests from homeowners for exterior modifications to homes and landscaping. The committee has exclusive jurisdiction over modifications, additions or alterations made on or to existing units or structures containing units and the open space. The Architectural and Modifications Committee (also known as AMC) is established in our Covenants, Conditions and Restrictions of JBCC (Article XI, Section 2).

Homeowners submit a completed application to the Property Manager's Office on the form available in the office or the website. It is always helpful to attach a copy of your home survey if your request concerns pool installation, changes to a lanai, or extensive outside landscaping.

Once an application is submitted to the committee for review and approval the committee has 45 days to render a decision of either approval or denial. Approved applications are valid for 6 months. Expired applications (where the modifications have not been performed that were previously approved) must be resubmitted for an extension or reconsideration of the approval

There are certain applications that do not need to come before the committee that the HOA manager can approve. For example, the HOA manager can approve: 1. paint colors if on the approved color list; 2. Metal roofs if on the approved roofing selection.

There are times when an application request might need a "Site Visit" by the committee. This occurs when the committee requires a visit to a homeowner's property to get a visual picture of what the homeowner is requesting approval to do and an opportunity for the committee to have any questions they might have answered.

Meetings are open meetings to the community and are held every other Tuesday at 2PM in the Club House Library. The Committee may make recommendations to the Board of Directors for adoption of Community Standards and procedures governing the AMC'S area of responsibility and practice. Committee members may alert the Property Manager of potential violations when observed.

The committee consists of at least five no more than nine people. The AMC committee is instrumental and committed to helping maintain the beauty and esthetics of the community which maintains the value of our homes!

BUILDINGS & GROUNDS (B&G)

B&G once again spent time and effort working to improve the landscaping at Oak Branch Ct. First, it should be noted that In June 2024, numerous plants were put in the ground in the circle and since that time, almost all of them died. This effort was made after the previous landscaping project years before suffered a similar fate.

Since the HOA has a policy of not irrigating common areas like this cul-de-sac, drought-tolerant plants were chosen for the June 2024 landscaping project. In addition, homeowners volunteered by watering the new plants. Despite all this, the plants did not make it.

Fast forward to August 2026, and the team worked with M&M to again beautify the area. Trees were trimmed and agaves were planted because they seem to be the one and only plant that survives the conditions in that area. The committee remains hopeful and at the same time vigilant, keeping a watchful eye out for signs of trouble.

Here are some recently completed B&G projects:

- Put sod around numerous oak trees on Mossy Oak Way and Pin Oak Drive to reduce the HOA's mulch footprint (mulch is an ever-increasing expense).
- Replaced mulch with river rocks in the JV pool landscape in keeping with the other two pools' landscape and further reducing the HOA's mulch footprint.
- Removed frost damaged, dead cocoa plums from the Oakleaf Ct. common area.
- Installed new signage throughout the community (thanks, Larry).
- Replaced damaged material found on ten chaise lounges (thanks, Larry) saving the HOA thousands of dollars when compared with getting new chaise lounges.

B&G Members at Work

Michele Kuehmichel accepted the task of improving the landscape at Oakleaf Ct. As noted above, some of the plants suffered frost damage and Michele found that other plants need to be replaced. Michele presented her ideas to the committee so that she can develop a simple and long-lasting landscaping plan. Stay tuned for these improvements.

Security

During 3Q26, B&G responded to 34 security-related incidents, fourteen (14) of which involved our gates. Of those incidents three involved contractors, six residents and five non-residents. Most of the gate incidents affected bar arms, but one incident resulted in damage to a gate. When this happens, it usually requires the services of a welder to make repairs...and that's expensive!

Ken Wipfler and I promptly responded to all gate incidents taking steps to restore the bar arms and gates to normal operation. Margaret Arthur, Property Manager, pursued reimbursement of all expenses.

Engineering

This is the time of year when our area experiences a lot of rain that can result in ponding that lingers. This condition was recently seen in Oak Branch Ct. at some street valley drains. The likely fix would be to clean the drains, right? The answer is “No” according to our resident expert, Dave Edson, PE. Dave explained, “The conditions occurring at the drains are typically symptomatic of the root cause, which is a nearby retention basin that is not functioning properly.” Dave provided an aerial screenshot of the affected area that illustrates the locations of the valley street drains (3-51 and 3-52), inlet structure (3-53) and retention basin (3-54).

B&G inspected the retention basin with Margaret Arthur and then engaged M&M to remove overgrowth that was limiting the flow of water. As luck would have it, as soon as M&M’s work was complete, we had a heavy rainfall that proved useful in demonstrating the effectiveness of improving the retention basin’s functionality and...not cleaning the drains. Great advice, Dave.

COMMUNICATIONS COMMITTEE

The communication committee continues to bring our community need-to-know information through our quarterly newsletters, EZCOM monthly communications, and website. Please remember that our website is managed by this committee of volunteers and not our property management company.

Our committee is always looking to improve our products. One recent recommendation from a homeowner was to make improvements to our Classified Ads, so sellers can add more than one picture, and so potential buyers can click on the pictures and enlarge them; like Facebook Marketplace. Although there isn't an app within our website's platform that we can readily use, there are some workarounds that we're investigating. Stay tuned!

In addition, we are looking into how we can use AI to improve our website, newsletter, and the monthly EZCOM. We hope you like the new mobile device-friendly layout of our newsletter.

JBCC HOA Communications are largely produced by the Communications Committee that consists solely of volunteers: Deb Kelly, Susan Cary Strickland, Jane Mead, Gonda Gebhardt, Bonnie Robinson, Claudia Cobble, and Walt Mitton.

FINANCE

The Finance committee met in August and again in September to review financial statements, monitor reserve spending and determine the 2027 budget for the HOA. The committee solicited input from all committees that have budgetary needs, reviewed income and expenditures for all services including those currently being negotiated as follows:

1. Cable TV/Internet
2. Chemical & Fertilization
3. Pools/Fountains
4. Preserves Management
5. Security Guards
6. Lakes
7. Reserve Study
8. Cable TV Consultant
9. Tennis Courts - Fencing

Committee meetings sometimes reveal cost overruns that lead to investigations. Keith Corlett investigated water usage billing at the JV pool and his efforts resulted in a sizable reduction to monthly expenses. Keith is currently investigating billing of Internet and telephony charges.

The committee also reviewed the recently updated 2026 Reserve Study to ensure all information accurately reflects the HOA's assets, etc. This study includes for the first time the former sub-association, Twin Villas, and that neighborhood's needs. The study was also updated to reflect many improvements that have occurred since the last study was done in 2024. The committee is currently awaiting the final version of the 2026 Reserve Study.

LAKES COMMITTEE

It has been a busy summer for the newly formed Lake Committee! We were tasked with overseeing the lakes to assess their health and what is needed to ensure they remain healthy. The committee met multiple times over the summer months. Not only did we meet we also physically inspected the lakes. The physical inspection of the lakes by the committee provided a clearer picture and essential information which helped guide our decision as to what is needed to ensure the viability and health of the lakes. The lakes not only add to the beauty of the community but also provide a safe haven and food source for the various wildlife that we all enjoy and lastly add to the value of the homes within JBCC/JV.

Our current contract with our present Lake Company will be up for renewal in the next several months. The committee has been focused on identifying and engaging several other companies based on input from homeowners and on information the committee itself has gathered. The committee has been, is, and will remain focused on ensuring that the lakes receive the care they need.

The committee has forwarded our recommendation to the Board for their approval of the Lake Company, which we believe will best meet the needs of the lakes and ensure their health for the future!

The following committee members have dedicated their time to this committee by inspecting the lakes, gathering information, researching lake information, formatting proposal requirements and lastly forwarding the committee's recommendation to the Board for review and approval Those committee members are as follows: Pete Roman, Suzanne Avena, Deborah Pearson and Andrew Tavorario.

FEATURE ARTICLE

★ SPOTLIGHT ARTICLE – REDEFINING SUCCESS

Think of the word Entrepreneur. What does it really mean? How can choosing this path shape your life? Many of us followed the prescribed route to success: good grades, college, marriage, career, children. But success can take many forms. In Florida, I had the privilege of meeting two entrepreneurs whose stories I felt compelled to share: two highly successful women, a bit like the “wild women” my mother warned me against—risk takers who enriched their lives by bringing joy to others. Enjoy the ride.

Meet Denise Langille – The Horsewoman

Not a job or identity, but her vocation. Denise first encountered a horse as a “young kid.” Her first, ER, was a 16.3-hand thoroughbred. Her desire is to connect people with horses and teach more than riding: how to communicate commands and love. She guides children and adults toward trust, strong bonds, and dedication to their horse’s health and welfare.

Like many entrepreneurs, she learned “people skills” on the job at her father’s restaurant in Wrentham, Massachusetts. Real life can be a school of hard knocks, but often it’s a treasure chest of ideas. Managing a stable is a 24-7, moment-to-moment responsibility that tests character and sharpens skills. Denise feeds her horses three times a day starting around 7:00 am—and loves it. Her husband, Blake, helps with heavy-duty tasks when he’s not piloting private jets.

Denise jokes, “I have a PhD in mucking stalls.” Her first lesson: “You are the voice that your horse does not have. Keep it real.” She sometimes trusts horses more than people because “horses don’t pretend to be something they are not.” Her downtime is a trail ride with Fawn, her Gypsy Vanner.

Creating a space where horses and people connect was always her dream, so three years ago she started GV Equestrian Dreams in Palm City. One student returned after a bike accident, broken jaw, and months of recovery, then blossomed as a rider. Denise recalls, “Her natural ability is inspiring, but it is her courage, perseverance, and refusal to give up that moved me the most. Sometimes the greatest riders are not simply those with talent—they are the ones who continue to get back in the saddle and try again.” Each well-trained rider helps ensure a safe home for one more horse.

On a hot day at GV Equestrian Dreams, horses cool down with a fresh drink from the hose, then rest in stalls with fans blowing—equine heaven in a nutshell. In the ring, it’s all about communication. Denise will banish anyone who hits a horse or yanks its bit while shouting. Her students range from 4-H members to senior citizens. Every horse knows her voice and expectations and responds immediately. That’s trust in living color, beautiful to behold.

Denise has found every entrepreneur's true joy: knowing she has enriched the lives of her students, boarders, and horses. Not all creations can be seen. Some are carried through life, deep in our heart.

Meet Erica – Owner of Abstract Aluminum

She is the only woman over 40 I've met who owns a construction company and is its sole employee. An average day finds her atop a wooden beam stretched over a pool between two ladders, repairing a lanai's frame and screens. She even invented a one-handed tool that secures screen to frame more efficiently and creates a better seal.

Erica entered the marketplace after her first horseback ride. When her mom could not afford lessons, six-year-old Erica worked for her teacher, Susan, mucking stalls to pay for them. Her first horse was a 17.2-hand great-grandson of Man O' War. They rode whenever possible until Susan moved away 13 years later, ending Erica's stable job and access to horses.

Her slight frame houses a strong-willed, independent woman who learned hard work early. Though not born into riches, she is extremely talented. At a school for gifted children, she became proficient enough in violin to perform with youth orchestras in European concert halls; she still plays today. Offered several college scholarships, she shocked her principal by leaving high school before graduation. She "needed to get out of the house" to survive and "wanted to get on with living my life and making things happen." She values customers who let her create beautiful structures built to last.

Erica estimates she held 58 jobs from age 15 until opening her business in 2001. Frequent job changes left her without medical insurance when she fell ill. Surgery removed her right ovary without antibiotics, and a post-op infection sent her back to the hospital. The antibiotics were not enough; on her third ER visit, she received the surgery she needed and survived—for a price.

After surgery, she could not bear children. One can only speculate whether insurance might have brought a more thorough initial response and spared her ordeal.

For 21 years, pools and screen enclosures have made up most of Abstract Aluminum's business. Erica is a licensed contractor; operating without a license is a felony in Florida. Her advice: check whom you hire. Two local aluminum contractors taught her the trade. She sets high standards, thrives on challenges, risks, and new skills, and built her company entirely through customer referrals.

Her work is exquisite; she leaves only when a project meets her standards for safety, durability, and beauty. The question she hates but often hears is, "Where is your husband?" Unmarried and unwilling to be tied down, she remains close to extended family and passes her values to a nephew she cared for until age 13. When he wanted a $400 video game, she paid him $20 an hour to work. At the store, he tearfully discovered another $39 in tax. Erica gave him the money, which he repaid with two more hours of work. In teaching self-reliance, she gave him a key to a productive life.

Entrepreneurs are the backbone of Florida's economy. Their efforts provide what we need for a safe, comfortable life in Martin County.

MERMAIDS

As summer is coming to an end, we are starting to welcome our snowbird Mermaids back to the pool. It was a hot summer, and our water aerobics classes were well attended the whole time.

As always, we meet on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at the Pin Oak Pool from 10 to 11 a.m. If you're thinking of joining our sessions, you will need a long noodle (at least 5'), a set of water weights and a good attitude. We do a series of exercises and we have fun, too. I am not a certified teacher, and there is no fee involved. We do the best we can to stay active and work out all our parts.

PICKLEBALL

Currently we are playing six days/week at 8 – 10 a.m. (Mon thru Sat). We use the GroupMe app to post games, but if you're new to the game or new to the neighborhood, just show up. Jim Menendez or Kate Roberts will be happy to teach you the rules and get you started. Bring tennis shoes without deep treads, a water bottle, and sunglasses. Call Cindy Walp for more information, 513-348-0399 or cwalp@hotmail.com

Tip: How to Win More Points Playing Pickleball

Players often assume improvement requires a better drop, harder drive, more aggressive serve, or sharper dink. Sometimes that helps, but many points are won by using existing shots more effectively—not by hitting harder shots.

Get Into Position Earlier

Players who are a second late to the ball often compensate with the paddle. They reach, flick, lean, or swing bigger because their feet position was not established.

Earlier movement gives the same serve return, dink, volley, or drop a better contact point. It also makes the next shot easier because the player finishes in a more stable position.
